

Congratulations on your big day!

Celebrating your wedding with loved ones is such an exciting way to commemorate your joy and begin the next chapter of your lives together.

These days, many couples are tying in vows with values and coming up with ways to incorporate charitable giving into their wedding celebration.

By supporting local Thai charity Phuket Has Been Good To Us, you are not only adding a unique touch to your special day, but you are helping to make a difference to the lives of underprivileged children in Thailand.

Ways to make a difference

There are a number of ways to incorporate your philanthropic side into your wedding.

Donations from guests

Many couples already have everything they need to start their life together, so they are choosing to ask guests for donations instead of gifts for their wedding day.

Donations from the happy couple

In lieu of wedding favours, many couples chose a special way to say thank you to their guests by making a donation on their behalf.

About Phuket Has Been Good To Us

Thai charity Phuket Has Been Good to Us provides free English education to more than 900 students in both primary and secondary school. The charity undertook this task in the wake of the 2004 tsunami, which destroyed both the Kamala and Kalim school buildings.

They are committed to employing qualified, fluent English speaking teachers to provide the best possible English language education for these students. Their aim is to help Thai youth become capable and confident English speakers and to provide them with the skills necessary to secure a bright future and well-paid employment in Phuket.

As part of this mission, Phuket Has Been Good To Us runs an afterschool and weekend programme called Coconut Club for the 130 residential students at Kamala School. These children live at school as many of them do not have families to care for them.

The charity receives no government funding and relies on the support and generosity of the community to continue its important work.
